

SLUM LINE ESCAPER

By. Moryasshan

Sometimes experience from someone tells us more than any of books of theory . Life is all about being inspire from people who came from struggle . it was a bright day of summers people from fashion industries were gathered for a seminar telling experiences . People attending the seminar asking question from them . One boy stood from a corner stood to ask the question he ask "to become a fashion designer what it takes to become is this not for people having good money people like us no one believe us ' .The man on the stage replied it with great smile that . "Sometime to became something dream is required rather than money that is something we cant buy it with money ,let me tell you a beautiful story from Asia largest slum in Mumbai, a story of how sometimes dreaming something could become reality ".Dharavi a place where sometimes even taking breath can feel like smelling rotten eggs , There was a girl name Sita she was a ordinary girl in his family father use to work as rickshaw driver who used to work for 16 hours a day mother was maid who used to work in 4 homes . Her parents were hard working people just came 3 years ago in Mumbai . To find work from village they used to live on rent , she was 17 years old her brother was 9 years old they both used to go to school .Slums is being a one of the tourist sites in Mumbai Sita used to watch everyday that many people comes in slums take photos record videos ,she was not able to understand why these people comes . One she ask her mother about it her mother was not so educated she could not tell her but . One day she was buying vegetable there she found one young lady finding someone address before she could turn back that lady asked her the address listening the address she was shocked . It was her house not able to understand about it she took her to her home at moment she seen that house tears were running out her eyes Sita was so confused . She asked lady why she is crying that lady tells her that she used to live there 10 years ago Sita was totally shocked by looking her it hard to tell she used to live there . Sita asked her about that that lady tell she studies hard cracked exam and now she run a company .Listening this Sita was all confused being curious she was not able to sleep that whole night . later she discuss this with her friend . Radhika her father was a factory worker she know about company .she tell to Sita company is something which sell something , this thing made Sita to think about seeing this lady made her think about company selling she have seen many people make things like slipper shirts shoes some factory tools in slum this strike her mind . She used to do make mehendi an Indian art in people wedding and family functions there she thought that what if she make this type of designs to people cloths and take Indian clothing on next level . there she decide to learn designing . Her grand mother used to do sewing her machine was on attic she take that machine and start learning sewing from youtube but when her dad came to know about it that she want to sell design clothes her dad become angry on her because he never want her daughter to work he became so mad that he took that machine and broke it . This make her innocent heart broke but it light a fire in her to become now what she want to . she decide to do work near washing booths where they wash she did not tell her father her mother was seeing the fire in her so she support her . She start washing clothes of peoples there was a old lady used to live near that place . One day she asked her why are you doing this at such a small age then Sita told that lady about her story listening this that old lady decided to help her she was used to live alone her children used to live out of India they have not comes for more than 7 years that lady was having machine and know how to use it very good . Sita started learning the work very dedicatedly now she was becoming good . but god have another plans her father have diagnosed with tuberculosis and he gone bed rested he become so ill an unenergetic this make her family in financial crises so she took drop from school and work as a tailor now she was having her own machine . Her father saw her hard work and passion he feel t bad about his act . He called Sita apologies to her and also cried this make Sita so emotional that she promised her dad that she will finish the poverty . This was last night of her with her father her father was no more this broke her for one more time . She became restless but soon realized that she have given promise to someone she loves . So she now designed outfit and tried to sell in near by shops but was rejected from everywhere . She become so sad that she was deciding to quit but one day a tourist noticed her outfits and he was so amazed by looking the art work on it he asked Sita that where she get these ,she told him that this is made by her . That tourist was photographer he tells her that there are some fashion shows are going out in Mumbai .He tell her to take part in it this was something like fuel to the fire in her . She was coming first time to new Mumbai She was amazed that what she used to see on phones that life she was seeing for first time . She took participate there first she got reject because of her looks she did not know how to walk on ramp .She was a quick learner she learned again take part but to go in front of many people you need confidence but she was not useful to it this let her down she again not get selected again she fail now it was her final chance she already face rejection and bullies by her fellow mates .again she tries in many place but not win because of politics but as far she was improving from her every failure .

This was last and biggest fashion show THE UNIVERSAL FASHION SHOW and now she was well prepared this was having 6 rounds of selection and as participants go in next round there name will be shown on screen . This was her last chance and also last hope there were 1000 plus applications auditions stars her mother and old lady was waiting outside the venue . All other fellow mates were making fun of her appearance . After round 1 her name comes on screen after round 2 again name come after round 3 again name comes but after round 4 her name not comes , this made her mother herself and old lady cries . Sita fell in her mother arms all other people making fun of her until they hear a voice shouting Sita name one member of the crew comes and give her selection slip saying congratulation for selecting in fashion show . This made another people loose their control they ask that man what happened that why she is selected . Then that official said that to pass auditions you have to cross some pints which she have already crossed that why we are not taking her audition for next next rounds . This also make her cry but this time it was because of happiness . This time she was well prepared and also confident and when she comes on ramp walk . It was tough to take eyes away from her for a sec her outfit was telling story of Indian heritage and her hard work She won that fashion show . Sometimes struggle becomes so big that success became dream . After that she got offered work as fashion designer and became a multi millionaire . The person who tells the story in seminar asked where she is he replied somewhere better place may be she is present here only . The girl Sita was actually the owner of fashion company where that person was working
